

Dear AMBO officers:

Below is some information that might be of interest for your members, if they are not already aware of it. Is there a way you could share this with your members? Thank you for your assistance.

Recent legislative changes in the plumbing industry

On Dec. 1, 2007, recent law changes in plumbing industry took effect and the Construction Codes and Licensing Division continues to receive calls from various stakeholders who have not heard about the changes.

We have highlighted some of these changes in our CCLD Review Winter 2007 publication on our Website at www.doli.state.mn.us/review.html. The stories discuss the recent Dec. 1, 2007, legislative changes about who can perform plumbing work and the need for all people working as plumbers to follow the new licensing and bond rules.

There is also more information about these changes online at www.doli.state.mn.us/plumbing.html.

Also, if your members don't receive our quarterly newsletter, they can subscribe to the free CCLD Review publication by visiting <http://workplace.doli.state.mn.us/elists/>. Subscribers will receive an e-mail notification each quarter when a new edition is available online. They will also receive periodic updates about CCLD activities and seminars.
